

Pastoralism and territorial development

Pastoralism and territorial development: knowledge sharing.

ABSTRACT

Support for the professional workshop of the Master 2 "Development Studies (EDEV)" (student funding) whose objective is to conduct a multidisciplinary and intercultural debate, based on a concrete development situation, using several pedagogical tools, between actors from the South and the North, including students, professionals and research teachers.

This experience will also serve as a test of partnership in higher education in terms of organisation and logistics, but also in terms of pedagogical methods and interactions with other institutions.
