

IDEA 2016

Journée IDEA (Drone

ABSTRACT

The event is primarily intended to be an information and awareness-raising day, not a scientific seminar. The idea is to address the questions that any researcher wishing to use drones asks (or more precisely, should ask), to illustrate through feedback the advantages and disadvantages of these observation vectors, the questions they raise, both practical and ethical, and to allow the local community to discover/know each other so that everyone can see where to turn.
