

Outdoor laboratories for agrobiodiversity

Off-site laboratories to promote the use of agrobiodiversity in rural areas

ABSTRACT

To set up and test an 'action research' approach to agrobiodiversity, involving research teams, practitioners and rural stakeholders in 4 Mediterranean and tropical regions.

Sub-objective 1: To encourage practitioners and rural stakeholders to work together.

Sub-objective 2: to organise an international workshop to compare the results obtained in the different regions. This project is carried out in partnership with the BEDE association, which provides a link between research institutions and practitioners in the field.
